Prologue:

A game designer who is hardworking and determined to create narrative projects for an intended audience. Passion for gaming started as early as the Nintendo 64 era with games such as Zelda: Ocarina of Time and Super Mario 64. The experience of reading a variety of books as well as playing games has led to a creative mindset for projects. The enthusiasm and great communication skills have created quite an open book who is always ready to learn new things every day.

Quest Experience:

Game Design Graduate

University of East London - September 2019 – May 2023

During my time at university, I enhanced my literature and narrative skills through the help of game design academics and industry professionals. I have helped to create a VR game for a client with my peers using today's industry standards in a studio environment. This has helped me perceive a passion for new things I wasn't aware of before. I have gained skills in level design, narrative, and collaboration during my time at university as well as a range of contacts in the industry.

President of the University's Esports Society

University of East London - September 2021 – May 2023

I have always been interested in the Esports scene and took the chance to join the university's Esports society during freshers week. I was an active member and in 2020, I became the admin and events manager. I helped coordinate and host a plethora of events as well as contracting our society jerseys. In 2021, I took over the position of president and handpicked my admin and events manager to lead alongside me. I worked with organisations such as NUEL and London University Esports who hosted our teams in tournaments.

During my time as president, I overlooked the League of Legends teams. I was their manager who also handled their try-outs and coaching.

Food and Beverage Associate

Marriott Hotel in Canary Wharf – November 2022 – Present

I am currently working at the Marriott in multiple departments. I have been trained as a bartender as well as breakfast hostess which has helped me gain new skills as well as meet a plethora of different characters. Currently, I am transitioning to the front desk team while I wait for my cross training programme in the finance department. Working at the Marriott has helped me gain new skills that I didn't have before such as the basics of mixology, hosting, and managing people. Meeting all of the people that I have has helped me quite a lot with the character design aspect of my games as working in a hotel means you encounter all kinds of people from all over the world. My next step in the company is learning finance in the world's largest financial district.
